

DIFFERENTIATION Practice Sharing Series

12th June | 6th September | 4th October | 6th November | 11th December

Are you an ASN Teacher or Practitioner working with learners at 'Early' Level but with very different Communication and Learning needs?

Would you appreciate the opportunity to identify where your Early Level Learners are in the context of the Emotion Works Programme and be guided towards relevant training, resources and teaching material?

Join Claire Murray, Programme Creator, at our series practice sharing sessions for Emotion Works members* who are ASN Teachers and Practitioners working with learners across the 3 earliest stages of the Emotion Works Programme.

Information and guidance will be given about planning for emotional learning and communication with groups and individuals in schools and settings where pupil abilities span these different levels and stages.

We're very happy to be running this series of sessions with the help of Staff from Isobel Mair School in East Renfrewshire who will be sharing some of their own differentiation challenges with Claire about their ASN population which will bring a very real and solution focused feel to the series.

Over the course of the 5 sessions, we look forward to guiding and signposting all attendees towards a wide range of Emotion Works training & teaching materials and approaches, while facilitating lots of practitioner dialogue relevant to working with learners in the ASN sector.

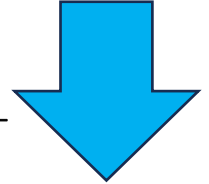

* If you are not an existing Emotion Works member you may still find the sessions helpful, but to fully benefit from the learning shared you should have at least familiarised yourself with the first (free) Training Video and Resources on our ASN Severe & Complex Needs Training Page
